

Language Identification Organizer

Listen closely and check off each sentence or partial sentence as you hear it.

- It's a bag - a purse made by the French luxury brand Hermes
- She had just moved to the very posh Upper East Side of Manhattan
- She was walking sort of at me so that I had to move further and further to the right until finally, I found myself stopping right up against this garbage can
- They're large, boxy purses made of leather
- To claim a place in her new neighborhood
- I ran this by former advertising executive Josh Weltman
- Telling people they can't have one, turning people away - that is part of the marketing
- After Hermes banished her to the waiting list, she wanted a Birkin even more
- If I can't see why it's special, I have the problem
- Only every single second I felt ridiculous about it all the time
- And she never got pushed off a sidewalk again