Language Identification Organizer

Listen closely and check off each sentence or partial sentence as you hear it.

[ ] What should the government spend its money on?

[ ] Lighthouses are the classic example of what economists call a public good.

[ ] Hey, we're going to build the lighthouse; want to contribute?

[ ] If you don't buy the sneakers at Walmart, you just don't get to walk with them out of the store.

[ ] You didn't have lighthouses on rocky shoals or in the middle of the ocean.

[ ] Some unexpected things also count as public goods, like autopsies.

[ ] And yet, no individual really has an incentive to pay for one. They don't see the benefit.

[ ] The family thinks yuck, autopsy.

[ ] So the person who is in the best position to encourage autopsy often will not.

[ ] But even Herrera agrees the government should be paying for autopsies.