

Language Identification Organizer

Listen closely and check off each sentence or partial sentence as you hear it.

- I am wearing red pants, a red overcoat, a black belt
- this big, rolling Santa-themed party in New York City
- You're having belt trouble
- It was like a $14 Santa costume
- He, not surprisingly, is a big costume importer
- I could put on this red, fur jacket
- It's part of the second law ever passed by the U.S. Congress
- Customs declined to comment for this story, but the government itself doesn't seem to be sure where costumes belong
- Now Beige and a group of costume importers are trying to end this fight once and for all
- They're trying to get Congress to pass a law saying costumes are festive articles, not clothes